GIGANTIC SEA POWER IS SEEN AS U.S. AIM FOR NAVAL DEFENCES

Government Plans to Build Six New Battleships, Largest in World—Additional Warships, Destroyers, Airplanes and Submarines Included in Expansion Scheme

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Navy Day here finds the United States welding new links into the nation's "first line of defence" on the sea, under it and in the air. Speeding expansion of the navy to keep pace with that of Great Britain, long the premier sea force, the Government is building six new battleships larger than any that have ever put to sea, two large airplane carriers and an undisclosed number of big bombing planes, thirty-seven destroyers, sixteen submarines and seven cruisers of the most modern type.

NEW BATTLESHIPS

Besides these sixty-eight warships, Congress has authorized but not yet provided funds for three additional battleships, fifty-five destroyers, eighteen submarines and eight cruisers.

The 133 new ships combined with 140 already in service would bring the total to 273 units, a new high in United States naval strength. A naval air force of 1,800 planes, already rated the world's largest, is to be increased to 3,000 planes.

Each of the nine new battleships will be armed with nine sixteen-inch guns. These "big boys" of the fleet will cost about $70,000,000 apiece.

POSITIVE PROTECTION

President Roosevelt said that United States sea power must be adequate "to insure positive protection against any aggressor."

In an annual letter to the Secretary of the Navy, which assumed special significance in view of the administration's programme to reinforce land, sea and air defences, Mr. Roosevelt declared: "The fleet must be ready."

The President added: "Within the past year unsettled world conditions have made it imperative that we take stock of our national defence and face the facts."

CONFESSES TO MASS FORGERY

Vancouver Girl Admits Part Making Cheques on Dying Woman's Account

VANCOUVER, Oct. 26 (AP)—A nineteen-year-old girl told a six-man jury today that she had forged cheques of a dying woman and how the woman's expensive wedding ring had been substituted by a cheaper one.

Mr. Justice Denis Murphy and the jury heard the evidence of Lilian Crawley, a Crown witness in the trial of Andrew and Violet Goulding charged with conspiracy to steal from Mrs. Eva Platt Huntington, who died in the Goulding's nursing home last May.

Miss Crawley, formerly maid in the Goulding home, previously pleaded guilty to charges of conspiring to defraud Mrs. Huntington and was allowed freedom on suspended sentence.

In a four-hour questioning Miss Crawley identified fifty-eight exhibits of jewelry, documents and other items as belonging to the dead woman. The Crown alleges Mr. and Mrs. Goulding "more or less appropriated" the jewelry.

The girl today admitted signing three more cheques in the name of Mrs. Huntington, bringing the number of admitted forgeries in the case to thirty.

Logger Goes To Hospital In Airplane

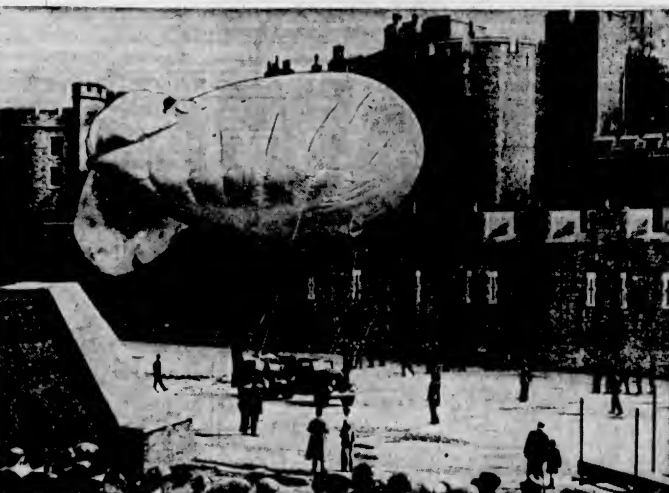

VANCOUVER, Oct. 26 (AP)—Sanford Strong, thirty-three-year-old logger, was in hospital here tonight with a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries suffered when crushed by a load of logs at the Merrill, Ring & Wilson, Ltd., logging camp at Rock Bay on the east coast of Vancouver Island. Hospital attendants said his condition was "fairly good."

Strong was injured at the logging camp about noon today. A call was sent here to Canadian Airways and Pilot N. E. "Molly" Small took off to bring him to hospital.

Testing London's Balloon Barrage

In contrast to the ancient Tower of London, in the background, is a modern attribute to the defence of England's metropolis. A number of balloons, similar to that shown above, were sent aloft recently, and some of them did not act according to plans, but dragged their mooring cables across country, causing some damage. However, the authorities considered the tests were successful. The balloon system was designed to shield London from enemy aircraft during war.

B.C. Government Moves to Defend Gasoline Order

Dealers, Perplexed With Injunction on One Side And Government Warning on the Other, Await Outcome of Issue Today—Statement Made by Government Supports Board

RETAIL gasoline vendors of the province were placed between two fires yesterday, with the Provincial Government insisting upon the mandatory reduction of the price of gasoline from 3 to 9 cents a gallon, and an interim injunction staying the hands of the Provincial Fuel Control Board pending argument in the Supreme Court at Vancouver this morning.

ADVISED TO KEEP PRICES

Retail Merchants' Association Circularizes All Service Stations of B.C.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 26 (AP)—The Retail Merchants' Association in British Columbia today advised operators of gasoline service stations to continue selling gasoline at present prices, despite a Provincial Fuel Board order to reduce charges from 3 to 6 cents.

A temporary injunction against the board order has been granted by the British Columbia court, and the board's order has been stayed. The board's order has been stayed.

Over the signature of George R. Matthews, British Columbia secretary, the association circularized all service stations in the province as follows:

TO KEEP MARGIN
Service stations throughout British Columbia have all been advised that inasmuch as the oil companies are disregarding the order of the board and whereas service stations have reported that their wholesale price today has not been lowered, that it cannot be conceived the Provincial Government expects them to keep their margin.

Declares Province Is Investigating Ways Of Helping Industry

Motion Picture Development, Which Made Fourteen Films in Victoria and Spent Nearly $1,000,000, Needing Encouragement, House Told

THE British Columbia Government is investigating the possibility of continuing the motion picture industry in Victoria, ten months after abolition of the British Empire quota scheme, William T. Straith (Lib., Victoria) announced in the Legislature yesterday while launching the main debate of the session.

Fourteen full-length pictures had been made at the Willows, and in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 expended, before restriction of quota protection to United Kingdom films, he said.

Mr. Straith turned to the subject at the close of other remarks in which he had spoken with authority of the administration, as mover of the address. He made it clear that with respect to the motion picture industry he was speaking in a personal capacity only. He urged upon the Government examination of what the States of Victoria and New South Wales had done in Australia with film quota laws; and appealed for encouragement for the British Columbia industry here. In conclusion, he said the question was being examined by the Department of Trade.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 27 (AP)—A Chinese News Agency dispatch from Chungking, the provisional capital of China, today said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek would issue a manifesto to the Chinese people in a few days setting forth China's determination to carry on a prolonged resistance to Japanese aggression.

Foreign Minister Wang Chung-hui, interviewed there, was quoted in the dispatch as declaring "China will go on fighting until the last breath."

"We will continue the struggle," Wang said, "until Japan makes an offer of equitable peace."

Conservative Leader Speaks At Brandon—Favors Construction of Highways

BRANDON, Man., Oct. 26 (AP)—The aim of the National Conservative Party is to use money now spent on direct relief for such public works as dustless roads, Hon. R. J. Manion, the party leader, said to 1,500 people here tonight.

"It can be done and will be done by the party I'm leading when I get into power," said Dr. Manion.

Nearing the end of his Western Canada speaking tour, Dr. Manion spoke to an Armistice meeting that was both a wind-up to the party's provincial convention and a campaign rally for George Beaulieu, Conservative candidate in the Brandon Federal by-election set for November 14.

ISLAND WOMAN GAINS WEALTH

Mrs. Donald Sutton, of Cumberland, Holds Ticket on Caserewitch Winner

By The Canadian Press
A small town beautician and a mining village housewife were lifted from their workaday worlds into the realm of riches yesterday by the running of the Caserewitch, a race which dumped $808,448 into the laps of Canadians.

Two major prizes of $150,000 went to Miss Doris Smith, operator of a beauty parlor, at Strathroy north of London, Ont., and Mrs. Donald Sutton, wife of a Cumberland, B.C., coal miner and mother of five. Both women held Irish Sweepstakes tickets on Contrevert, winner of the race at Newmarket, England. As they had sold a half-interest in their tickets to a syndicate for $5,300, each woman will realize approximately $80,000.

Pilot Braves Snow and Ice to Bring Injured Man to Alton Hospital

ATLON, B.C., Oct. 26 (AP)—George Finn, injured by a falling rock, was given a fair chance of recovery in hospital here today after Pilot Les Cook braved a snowstorm in a 300-mile flight to pick up the injured miner from remote Boulder Lake.

Cook guided his ship through blinding snowstorms in the 300-mile flight to Boulder Lake, in the British Columbia Interior. He landed on the 2,500-foot-long lake, which was covered with a quarter-inch ice sheet.

Mr. Sutton has already given up his job at the mine. Charlie Sutton, brother-in-law of Mrs. Sutton, sold the winning ticket and will receive a substantial prize.

FORCED TO LEAVE HOMES BY FIRE

Thirty Families Have to Flee Before Flames in Bush of Alberta

EDMONTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Fire fighters worked desperately tonight to prevent a circle of stubborn bush fires from reaching a valuable timber belt in the Mystery Lake district, twenty-five miles west of Edmonton, and seventy miles northwest of Edmonton.

Thirty families were forced to leave their homes today by the fires burning four miles south and east of the timber limit.

About 500 men were believed to be fighting the flames over a thirty-mile front, and hoping for rain or snow to help bring the blazes under control.

President Roosevelt Issues Warning to All European Aggressors

Declares United States Would Protect Western Hemisphere From Interference From Abroad—Viscount Halifax Asks Co-operation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt, in a virtually unprecedented condemnation of nations which suppress liberty, persecute Jews and use threats of war to attain national ends, issued a warning tonight that the United States would protect the Western Hemisphere from interference from abroad.

Speaking from the White House in connection with The New York Herald-Tribune's Forum on Current Affairs, Mr. Roosevelt added: "And we affirm our faith that, whatever choice of way of life a people makes, that choice must not threaten the world with the disaster of war."

"The impact of such a disaster cannot be confined. It releases a flood-tide of evil emotions fatal to civilized living. That statement applies not to the Western hemisphere alone, but to the whole of Europe and Asia and Africa and the islands of the sea."

Hahn Gives Details Of Negotiations in Bren Gun Contracts

President of John Inglis Company Tells Commission of Inquiry About Production Plans And of Purchase of Toronto Plant

OTTAWA, Oct. 26 (C.P.).—Methods of manufacturing armaments have changed sharply since the Great War, Major James E. Hahn, president of John Inglis Company, Limited, today told Mr. Justice H. H. Davis, royal commissioner, investigating the company's contract to make 7,000 Bren light machine guns for the National Defence Department.

During the war it was found that withdrawal of manpower for active service tended to cripple armament manufacturing establishments. To meet this danger, post-war armament factories were equipped to operate with a minimum of skilled male labor so that during hostilities women could operate the machines. Major Hahn made this explanation as he launched into an outline of the steps taken by the Inglis Company for the production of Bren guns since the contract was signed last March.

He was replying to criticism of the contract in an article by Lieut.-Col. George Drew, Toronto lawyer, published in Maclean's Magazine. This article led to the inquiry.

PRODUCTION PLANS
Production was being laid out so that the high degree of accuracy demanded in the parts of the gun would be provided by the tools and machines rather than by workmen. It was expected that 75 per cent of the labor employed would be semi-skilled and unskilled, and only 25 per cent need be skilled. "In this way the 75 per cent of the workmen could be replaced by girls in case of necessity."

The company had obtained "one of the greatest authorities in the British Empire" on small arms manufacture to direct its planning, G. Gillespie, now engineer-in-charge of the ordnance branch of the company.

Mr. Gillespie had been thirty-eight years with the Royal Small Arms Factory at Enfield, England, where Bren guns are now being made. Major Hahn said. Another employee of the company, W. J. Gaze, had worked for four years in rifle and machine gun production in the Birmingham Small Arms Factory. Mr. Gaze, with A. L. Ainsworth and W. J. McLachlan, of Major Hahn's own organization, had studied Bren gun production at Enfield this year.

BREN GUN NOT KNOWN
Under questioning by his counsel, Aime Geoffrion, Major Hahn said he had never heard of the gun when he agreed to take over the plant of "the John Inglis Company, Limited," as the former company, which went into receivership, was known. This present company is called "John Inglis Co., Limited."

In the Spring of 1936, he said, that Bert Plaxton, of the Plaxton & Company law firm in Toronto, had told him a client, John O. Cameron, of the brokerage firm of Cameron, Poirer & Merritt, was interested in the Inglis plant.

Sometime during the Summer he agreed to go ahead with Mr. Cameron's group, which included himself, Cameron, and Bert Plaxton, and possibly Gordon Plaxton, and take over the Inglis property provided he had the controlling interest. He regarded it as a deal something during the Summer of 1936, subject to the completion of legal formalities.

He said he understood Cameron had started negotiations with the Toronto General Trust Company, trustees of the property, before Mr. Plaxton had broached the subject to him.

GOES TO OTTAWA
"How did you come to go to Ottawa in October, 1937?" asked Mr. Geoffrion.

"I knew the company had made shells and assembled airplanes during the war," said Major Hahn. "I also knew that other manufacturers were going to Enfield to obtain shell business. In view of the fact most of the shell machinery was still in the plant, I considered it good business to get a backlog of shell orders while we were re-establishing our commercial business. So I went to Ottawa to see what assistance I could obtain before going to England."

In Ottawa, Hugh Plaxton, Liberal M.P. for Toronto-Trinity, had introduced him to Major-General L. R. LaFlèche, Deputy Minister of National Defence, and to Defence Minister Ian Mackenzie. He had observed that the Minister of Finance had maintained the credit of the Province by meeting all its obligations so far as he could.

LOUIS LEBOURDAIS, M.P.P.
Seconding the Address, Louis Lebourdais (Lib., Carleton Place), stressed the desire of the people of the Northern Interior for construction of the Alaska-Yukon Highway, and spent some time on the Province's examination of settlement proposals for the north.

Hope had been created, he said, by the visit of Sir Henry Page-Croft, with proposals for the settlement of 10,000 families on selected lands in the province; and these proposals had now been placed before both the Dominion and Imperial Governments. For its part, the Dominion had already established an experimental station in the north; while the Province had proceeded with soil surveys in the Prince George region, surveys which he hoped would be continued into the Cariboo territory this year.

British Columbia was importing large quantities of foodstuffs yearly, a fact which gave rise to the belief that property managed settlement schemes might well succeed. On the other hand, the transfer of jobs from the cities to the land, without special aptitudes for that life, would be a mistake, he warned.

Turning to irrigation agreements and holders of agreements with the Land Settlement Board, Mr. Lebourdais said that some revision of

Observed Birthday Here Yesterday

C. P. HILL

OF "Hillhaven," 724 Esquimaux Road, who received many congratulatory messages yesterday on the occasion of his seventy-sixth birthday. Mr. Hill, whose name has been well known in the mining history of Western America for the past forty years, was born at Bedford, Delaware, in 1862. He took up his residence here about fifteen years ago, and has a host of friends here.

These agreements were overdue, as those now on the land had capital loans and the component interest of twenty years standing as an immovable burden militating against the success of their efforts. The matter was under study, he stated.

Mr. Lebourdais renewed his appeal for the protection of spawning sockeye in the Fraser and other rivers, suggesting that Indians be given other food fish in lieu of their annual catch in these rivers; and closed with a review of the properties of alfalfa for use in wines, baby foods, and in other ways.

Outside of vague references to land settlement, the Alaska Highway, reforestation, and other subjects already delineated by the Government, neither the mover nor the seconder of the Address broke new ground with respect to Government policy.

R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative Leader of the Opposition, adjourned debate for the day, and will speak first today. He will be followed by Leonard A. Shepherd (C.C.F., Delta); with George M. Murray (Lib., Lillooet) to adjourn debate for the day.

Court of Appeal Victoria Sittings

Millon Litras (R) vs. Louise Swain Mattern (A)—The appellant was the owner of premises known as 724 West Hastings Street, Vancouver, and wishing to lease the same, gave a listing to McAulley, Nicholls, Maitland & Co., Ltd., a real estate firm. This firm approached the respondent with an offer to let the premises to him. The offer being accepted, a memorandum was prepared by the firm on October 30, 1937, and signed by the appellant. This document is in the form of a letter and the respondent is only described therein as "our client."

As the appellant repudiated the contract and leased the premises to other parties, the respondent brought action by a judgment awarded March 7, 1938, Mr. Justice Manson awarded $2,000 damages for breach of contract. The defendant is appealing from this judgment, claiming that the memorandum is not sufficient to satisfy Section 4 of the "Statute of Frauds" in that it does not identify the respondent. She also claims the damages awarded are excessive.

The Court of Appeal reserved judgment.

James W. and Edna Field (R) vs. David Spencer, Ltd. (Vancouver) (A)—This is an appeal from an order of His Honor Judge Harper in the County Court of Vancouver on an application for speedy judgment.

The plaintiffs had brought action in the Supreme Court against the defendant, but had lost, and judgment was entered against them for $985.10 for costs. Execution having been issued, $400 was paid on account. The respondent appealed and the Court of Appeal reserved the Supreme Court judgment and ordered a new trial, but the appellants refused to pay back the $400 as notice of appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada had been given. The appellants brought this action in the County Court to recover the said $400.

A. Bull, K.C., for the appellant, claimed the County Court judgment should not have granted leave to enter a speedy judgment as a triable issue had been raised by the defence.

Judgment was reserved.

Rex (R) vs. William Murray (A)—An application by the prisoner for leave to appeal from his conviction by Magistrate Wood in the Vancouver Police Court whereby he received a sentence of two years on a charge of wilfully damaging property, namely a window of the Carlton Hotel, came before the Chief Justice of British Columbia yesterday afternoon. After hearing the prisoner in person and Carew Martin, counsel for the Crown, the application was refused, owing to the exceptionally long and bad record of the prisoner.

The Court adjourned sine die.

Historical Society Annual Banquet Has Pioneer Atmosphere

About Sixty Guests Attend Delightful Dinner at Empress Hotel—Reports Show Gratifying Increase of Membership Since Founding

A CHARMING informality, suggesting something of the intimacy and friendliness of the pioneer days and folk to which so many references were made, characterized the annual dinner of the Victoria section of the British Columbia Historical Association, held last evening in the Princess Charlotte private dining-room at the Empress Hotel.

Dr. T. A. Rickard, the president, presided at the dinner. Guests were laid for about sixty guests at a beautifully appointed table decked in a color scheme of pink and green, carried out with pink "Charm" dahlias in silver vases, and sprays of hasein leaves, sprigged with dahlias, arranged down the entire length of the board. Several pioneer families were represented among those present.

BIRTHDAY TOAST
Immediately following the toast to The King, one of the prettiest incidents of the evening took place with the bringing in of a candle-lit birthday cake, which was placed before Mrs. Rickard, wife of the president. Dr. Kaye Lamb made a happily worded speech of congratulations, and Mrs. W. Fitzherbert Bullen presented a bouquet of flowers and expressed the members' delight that Mrs. Rickard's anniversary coincided with the date of the annual banquet.

Reports by officers and conveners of special committees followed. Mrs. Arthur Cree, the honorary secretary, ably reviewed the society's activities for the past year, giving a list of the speakers at the monthly and special meetings, and particularly referring to the enjoyable reception at which His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Humber were hosts at Government House last March. This event commemorated the arrival of Richard Blanshard in 1850. Mrs. Cree also referred to the gratifying increase in membership, and thanked the Government for granting a reading room at the Provincial Archives available for meetings.

FINANCES SOUND
Miss Madge Wolfenden read the annual financial statement, this showing that of the 163 members, 132 were in good standing. Five life members were in the list. The phenomenal success of the quarterly magazine published by the Provincial Archives, in co-operation with the British Columbia Historical Association, was noted by Dr. Lamb in his report as chairman of the committee on publications. Although the magazine was started a little less than two years ago, the second volume being just due to come off the press, it already had a larger paid circulation than any other historical publication in the Pacific Northwest.

Sympathetic and intimate details from the lives of some of the old-timers of the district who had passed away during the last year were recalled by Mrs. George Phillips in her report as necrologist. General activity in mining in British Columbia was reported by Major Harold Nation. Production, especially in gold, had been better than for several years. Many of the gold-bearing areas that had been idle for years were now being worked again. Nelson for lead, gold, the Cariboo for placer and lead, and the Omineca for placer. Other mining activities mentioned were that of the Consolidated Company, the Trail smelter, Copper Mountain mine (recently reopened by the Omineca Company), the Big Missouri at Stewart, that at Zaballos, on the West Coast of the Island, and the old Sidney Inlet mine, also on the West Coast of the Island, reopened by Japanese, who were shipping the product to Japan.

ELECTION RETURNS
The chairman reported that the following had been elected as council of the Victoria section of the British Columbia Historical Association: Dr. Kaye Lamb, Mrs. Arthur Cree, Miss Wolfenden, Major H. Nation, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, John Goldie, E. W. MacKinnon, Dr. J. S. Plaxton, J. B. Munro, T. W. B. Parsons, Dr. E. H. W. Elkington, and L. D. S. Duke. Officers would be chosen from these at the next meeting of the council. The retiring president retained ex-officio position as president for one year, would be Dr. W. N. Sage the president. The meeting will be in the Provincial Library, Parliament Buildings.

In retiring from office, Dr. Rickard specially thanked the council for its co-operation, the honorary secretary and treasurer, and Dr. Lamb, the efficient editor of the quarterly.

ALDERMAN OKELL NOT IN CONTEST

Announces He Will Not Enter
Mayorality Race With Mayor
Andrew McGavin

Alderman S. H. Okell announced yesterday he would not contest the mayorality race with Mayor Andrew McGavin, as indicated at a City Council meeting on Monday night.

He issued the following statement: "I was serious in stating I considered the possibility of opposing the present incumbent. I felt citizens should be given an alternative choice in view of franchise issues and other matters on which there has been disagreement in the City Council. I will not, however, be able to offer myself as opposition at the coming election.

"At a meeting of directors of the Red Cross Workshop on Tuesday night, I was told such a course would not meet with their approval. In view of that stand, I shall complete my present two-year term as an alderman and hope to be able to serve the interests of citizens in that capacity throughout next year," Alderman Okell stated.

WARD THREE LIBERALS

Ward Three Liberal Association will hold a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at Liberal headquarters, Captain C. R. Bull will be the speaker. A good turnout of members is requested.

Transportation Franchise Problem

THE proposal by the City Council that legislation should be sought to enable the municipalities of Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt, if they so desired, to act jointly with the city in the matter of a unified transportation system for Greater Victoria, was approved by the councils of the three municipalities, according to reports made to a further joint meeting with the City Council franchise committee yesterday.

Accordingly, a resolution was passed that the solicitors of the four municipalities should confer to draft such enabling legislation as would be necessary, and to take steps to have legislation put through the Provincial House as soon as possible.

WILL SEE MINISTER

It was further agreed that Mayor Andrew McGavin and Reeve R. R. Taylor, Oak Bay; Reeve William Crouch, Saanich; and Reeve Alex Lockley, Esquimalt, should interview the Minister of Municipal Affairs concerning the necessary legislation.

In addition to Mayor McGavin and the three Reeves, those who attended the joint meeting yesterday were Aldermen W. H. Davies, Burgess J. Gadsden, J. A. Worthington, W. Lloyd Morgan, S. H. Okell, Edward Williams, R. A. C. Dewar and Archie Wilby; Councillors P. A. Gibbs, Richard Angus and William Ellis, with R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, Oak Bay; Councillors E. C. Warren, J. H. Passmore, A. G. Lambrieck, George Austin, John Oliver and J. W. Howroyd, with R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, Saanich; and Councillor Albert Heald, Esquimalt.

At the previous meeting with the franchise committee, held last week, representatives of the municipal councils had been supplied with copies of the city's proposed franchise by-law for persons by their councils. In making their reports yesterday, the three Reeves stated that the question of introducing by-laws had been deferred until such time as enabling legislation could be secured.

UNANIMOUS VIEW

The decisions of their respective councils were unanimous on the question of obtaining enabling legislation, the Reeves intimated.

The City Council was thanked for the opportunity given to the municipal councils to study the proposed by-law, and for the friendly spirit of co-operation that had been shown.

During the discussion of the steps to be taken to secure the necessary amendment to the Municipal Act, it was pointed out that the only cost would be that of preparing legislation.

H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, explained that it would be necessary to take a separate vote in each municipality on a franchise by-law, but there was no reason why a uniform by-law for the city and the surrounding municipalities should not be introduced.

In reply to a question, it was explained to the municipal representatives that tenders would be open to all forms of transportation, and would not be limited to companies wishing to operate gasoline buses.

TENDERS SUGGESTED

Considerable discussion took place on a suggestion by Mayor McGavin that tenders should be called on a proposal to establish a unified system for Greater Victoria, in order that the city and the surrounding municipalities might have an indication as to what terms would be offered.

UPTOWN LEASE TAKEN BY B.C.

Entire Staff of Municipal Department Will Be Moved
At December 1

Provincial office staffs, crowded out of the Legislative Buildings, will move into their fourth building uptown on December 1, when the entire staff of the Department of Municipal Affairs will take over the top floor of the new Dominion Bank Building, at Yates and Douglas Streets, on a three-year lease.

Hon. A. W. Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs, announced the change yesterday. The transfer, he said, would make room required for the Lands Department.

The bank premises were taken on a three-year lease, at $150 monthly, or $5,400 for the period of the lease.

A. ROYAL VICEROY

It is a happy tradition that is being maintained in the appointment of members of the Royal House to posts as viceroys in the Dominions. Canada, South Africa and Australia have been recognized in this way in rotation, the latter by the fact that the Duke of Kent will take up the appointment of Governor-General at Canberra in November of next year. His Royal Highness is thirty-six years old and has won popularity. He has much experience in affairs of State and in diplomatic usage, for he was attached to the Foreign Office for some time. He has a winning personality that will appeal to the Australians, who are welcoming his appointment with enthusiasm.

Members of the Royal Family have almost unending claims on their services. It is a life of duty that they lead. The head of the family has set an ennobling example, and the fact that the Duke of Kent, who has represented the King so often, will be absent from England for some years, shows that even more work than in the past may fall to the lot of His Majesty. Like his father, however, he believes to the full in the doctrine of noblesse oblige; hence he is willing that his younger brother should enlarge his scope of Imperial obligation.

PILING UP DEBT

The two transcontinental railway companies should know best what economies could be effected under a policy of unified control. The estimate made by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is $75,000,000; that of the Canadian National Railways, $56,000,000. The actual figures, presented to the Royal Commission on Transportation in 1932, were $75,373,000 and $56,230,000, respectively. Both railways gave in detail proposed economies. Those items in which they differed in the greatest degree were in the matter of "maintenance of way, including line abandonment and elimination of duplication," and "equipment maintenance. In the former, the savings the C.P.R. claims could be made total $14,889,000, whereas the C.N.R. makes them as low as $3,423,000. In the latter the C.P.R. estimates economies amounting to $14,360,000, while the C.N.R. claim is only for $7,797,000.

If the railways know their business, or, in other words, if they know what traffic requirements are that can be met and the transportation system maintained on a more economical basis than at present, it is quite evident that a saving of upwards of $50,000,000 a year could be effected under unified control. Both transcontinentals agree upon this. It is an unanswerable argument in favor of unified control. Meantime, with practically nothing being done to solve the railway problem, the taxpayers have to find anywhere from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 annually to meet deficits. A late leaflet published by the Citizens Group for Railway Action says:

"At the dates on which the Dominion Government took over the various railways now comprising the Canadian National Railways, outstanding liabilities totaled $925,528,318, of which $115,607,457 was money lent to the railways by the Government. From the date of the first big Government acquisition (the Canadian Northern in 1917) the total liabilities to Government and public grew from $925,528,318 to $1,905,696,274 as at December 31, 1936. The C.N.R. Capital Revision Act, passed by Parliament in 1937, wrote $627,088,578 out of the railway books, so that at December 31, 1937, the outstanding railway liabilities were shown as $1,301,249,946. The $627,088,578 became part of the general debt of the Dominion."

THE COMMA'S IMPORTANCE

Social Credit propagandists, and "Social Credit," a London weekly, have been quoting Lord Macmillan as saying that "the Alberta Legislature was within its powers—a sovereign Legislature." This is supposed to be what he said during the hearing before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council at which certain Alberta legislation was challenged. The omission of two commas in the sentence quoted have given it a meaning which it does not possess. What Lord Macmillan said was: "The Alberta Legislature," That is entirely different to the claim made by the Social Credit propagandists. A municipal council, within its powers, is also a sovereign legislature. What Lord Macmillan intimated was that Alberta could do just what it was allowed to do under the terms of the British North America Act.

There is another illustration, somewhat hoary, of how punctuation can alter the meaning of a sentence. It is the inscription that once appeared on a barber's shop, in which, through lack of knowledge, or inadvertently, the writer omitted the necessary punctuation. It read: "What do you think, I'll shave you for nothing and give you a drink?" This should have read: "What! do you think I'll shave you for nothing and give you a drink?"

MINORITIES

The problem of minorities in European States will never be solved finally, just as it will never be solved in any part of the world. No new delimitations on the map could accomplish this, for minorities are scattered far and wide, as well as being comprised in groups and territories. Germany herself is confronted by minority problems within her frontiers. There are 700,000 Poles in German Silesia. Their language is barred in churches and in most of the schools, and they complain of suppression of their civil rights. In East Prussia there are 300,000 Slavs, while the total number of aliens in Germany, exclusive of Jews who are branded as foreigners, is 1,000,000.

In Hungary, now seeking the cession of territory occupied by its nationals in Czechoslovakia, there are 500,000 Germans, 141,000 Slovaks and 800,000 Yugoslavs. In Poland nearly one-third of the entire population is composed of foreigners, there being there 4,500,000 Russians, including 3,500,000 Ukrainians; there are 1,000,000 Germans and 2,000,000 Jews. Italy also has its problem of minorities with 400,000 Austrians in South Tyrol and 350,000 Yugoslavs at the northern end of the Adriatic Sea. Up to the time of the negotiation of the Berlin-Rome Axis, the Austrians (now Germans) in the Tyrol complained they were denied political rights and were unable to use their language in schools, courts and churches.

In Spain the minority question is that of 4,000,000 Catalans and 1,000,000 Basques, both of whom claim to be of nationalities not Spanish. Of Rumania's population, 4,000,000 comprise minorities, including Russians, Germans, Jews, Bulgarians, Poles and Yugoslavs. In Yugoslavia there are 2,000,000 aliens, including Germans, Magyars, Rumanians and Albanians, while Latvia contains 500,000 foreigners. If national self-determination were ever applied to the North and South American continents the problem of minorities would become even more intensified than it is in Europe, for the population on this side of the world is very largely made up of Europeans, and drawn from all races.

AIRPLANE SPEED LIMIT

What is the highest speed that it will ever be possible for an airplane to attain? A contributor to Flight, the official organ of the Royal Aero Club, claims the limit is 650 miles an hour. He bases his calculation on the action of an aircrew on the air through which it propels the airplane. His argument is that the pressure of the air in front of the aircrew is less than normal atmospheric pressure, and that hence "an airplane as it flies is preceded by a wave of reduced pressure." By mathematics he shows that the maximum speed of a wave of pressure through the air is the speed of a sound wave, which is 760 m.p.h. That might prove to be the maximum speed of an airplane, but the practical speed would be lower. The present airplane speed record of 440.29 miles an hour is held by Lieutenant Francesco Agello of Italy.

If researches of a group of Harvard professors go for anything, it was the Dutch and not the Scotch who invented the game of golf. The professors were investigating international law, and discovered an engraving from a painting of Grotius showing him holding a golf club similar to those now in use, but probably not steel-shafted. Grotius was an authority on jurisprudence in the Renaissance, and was born in 1583. The earliest golf, too, may well have been a time of record drives, for in 1600 it was played in the Netherlands on the ice, the holes being chipped out of the frozen surface of inland waterways. How Scotland came to acquire the game was through two Scottish sailors learning it while their vessel was frozen in Dutch waters. So golf is more ancient, if not more royal, than it is supposed to be.

FREEDOM

It is not to be thought of that the flood of British freedom, which to the open sea. Of the world's praise, from dark antiquity Hath flowed, "with pomp of waters unwithstood," Roused though it be full often to a mood Which spurns the check of salutary hands. That this most famous stream in bogs and sands Should perish; and to evil and to good Be lost forever. In our halls is hung Armour of the invincible knights of old. We must be free or die, we speak the tongue That Shakespeare spoke: the faith and morals Which Milton held: In everything we are sprung Of earth's first blood, have titles manifold. —William Wordsworth.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Fire in the air, and man is meeting it as coolly and daringly as ever he did upon land or water. Take the case of the Philippine Clipper, Capt. E. Laporte, caught six hundred miles at sea with an overheated motor. The plane, with several passengers and a multiple crew, was flying at 8,000 feet above the Pacific Ocean, westbound from Manila for Guam, when her pilot noticed one of her four motors smoking and spitting oil. He side-slipped the machine from 8,000 feet to 100 feet in four minutes, and throttled back in the denser air level until adjustments had been completed and the motor was functioning better. In those four minutes passengers were quietly cautioned that a landing might have to be attempted on the open sea and were fastened into life preservers. There was cool judgment and good hard common sense in that. By side-slipping the machine from 8,000 feet to almost sea-level the pilot avoided the danger of blowing possible and suspected fire back into the wings, and made time in which to bring about temporary adjustment of the trouble. This was achieved with passengers new to the air and without panic or fuss. Praise to Captain Laporte!

More dramatic, because fire broke out and was raging in the air, was the saving of fourteen lives by the cool daring of Pilot David Hissong, Co-Pilot C. P. Russell and Steward Frank Gibbs, who recently made a forced landing by moonlight a few miles outside of Montgomery, Alabama, with their blazing Eastern Airlines plane. The machine was a fourteen passenger, twin-motor transport ship, carrying eleven passengers and its crew of three. On a night flight over Alabama one of the propellers was damaged, causing vibration and over-heating that engine, which dropped out of the plane. Miles from a lighted airfield, and with only seconds in which to work, Pilot Hissong found a small pond by the light of the moon, used his remaining motor and all of his brains to manoeuvre the blazing ship over it. Fire seeped into the pilots' cockpit, melted leads and connections, wiped out all instruments, and licked up around the engine and the cockpit. As he set the machine safely on the ground, his co-pilot stayed at his post beside him, helping. The steward had the cabin ready, belts unbuckled and the door open as the machine stopped rolling. Every one of the eleven passengers was hustled to the open air safely, the crew leaving last of all. That was team work, judgment and cool daring, worthy of the finest traditions of the air. Praise, with a star, to Pilot Hissong!

When you recall that fire in the air is now very rare, unexpected and terribly sudden, you begin to appreciate the wits of the men who have faced and conquered it so coolly. In the old days of the wooden spars, linen wings and no parachutes, it was a case of side-slipping the fire out or taking the consequences. Nowadays, with metal planes, engine instruments, fire-extinguishers and other remedies, the danger of fire is remote—but it does happen. When it happens there remain a few split seconds in which to decide what to do, and there is no room for second thoughts or for error of judgment. Here you have two instances of how air pilots met the threat of fire in the air; one, midway between Manila and Guam over the Pacific Ocean, and the other on a transcontinental route over the southern States. The Alabama incident, where the ship was entirely consumed, is the more outstanding, because in that case the crew expected to give their lives for their passengers' safety, and very nearly did so.

It is part of the record, and well worth repeating, that Pilot David Hissong turned his part in swift drama aside lightly by saying he had done nothing more than another pilot would have done under similar circumstances. And what is understood that without the aid of Co-Pilot Russell and Steward Gibbs we could not have landed safely," he added. So courage is coupled with modesty, as it very often is among men. The air is a junior service to those of the land and the sea. In little more than three decades it has made tremendous strides from a freak and outlandish exhibition of daring, to a steady and reliable transportation service that is carrying millions of people. It is nice to know that the daring still there, and that, after the instruments have been swept away, it is still man that brings his ship into port. It is in incidents such as these that traditions are

The lands in the neighborhood of the North Arm Road, and distant two and one-half miles from Vancouver City, real and average price of $14 an acre. Japan should co-operate fully with the new government "and make the latter demand that foreign powers return rights and interests ceded by old China."

Seigo Nakano, a strong Rightist and a member of the innermost circles of the Japanese Government, is president of Tohokai.

COMPLETE OCCUPATION

HANKOW, Oct. 26 (CP-Havas).—Renewed fighting was reported in progress southwest of Hankow tonight as Japanese land and naval units, mopping up isolated snipers' nests, completed occupation of the three important Wuhan cities.

Father Robert Jacquinet, acting mayor of Hankow, today went down the river front to meet the first contingent of Japanese marines to land since the fall of the city, and received from them assurances that the security zone would be respected. The marines landed from a group of destroyers and mine-sweepers. Accompanied by an interpreter and this correspondent, Father Jacquinet made his way through smoke-laden streets in the Japanese Concession and gravely saluted the Nipponese officer in charge.

The cleric, to whom the Mayor of Hankow transferred his powers before fleeing, informed the commander that the neutral zone, embracing all foreign concessions, was completely demilitarized.

Street skirmishing occurred after Japanese land forces penetrated Hankow at nightfall Tuesday. There were concussion early today as charges of dynamite were touched off in various parts of the Chinese city. Many hundreds of Chinese undoubtedly were killed by the tremendous explosions.

Japanese dispatches said they had made a new advance about 130 miles southeast of here, entering the northeastern corner of Teian, long-disputed city midway between Kiangsi and Nanchang in Kiangsi Province.

implements from 25 per cent to 7½ per cent, there had been an average increase of 9 or 10 per cent in Western implement prices in Western Canada.

CANADIANS ARE SANE
Great disharmonies and great antagonisms were rampant in Canada. Dr. Manion did not think, however, there was great danger of the break-up of Confederation because most Canadians are too sane.

National unity could not be promoted by sectional thinking. The West must recognize the benefits it had received from the Federal Government, as well as complain about the disabilities imposed on it by tariff policy.

"In suggesting to the East and West, we should stop complaining and comparing and think as Canadians."

Dr. Manion said he preached one tariff policy in the East and West—a simple, reasonable tariff to protect all Canada's industries in so far as possible. There was no vent to high tariffs.

Since the tariff on farm implements was reduced from 25 per cent to 7½ per cent, there had been an average increase of 9 or 10 per cent in farm implement prices in Western Canada.

TALK OF SECESSION
Talk of secession in Western Canada was called "un-Canadian." Ninety or more per cent of the Canadian people were determined to maintain Confederation, he said.

"After seventy years of Confederation, I don't think anybody—certainly no great body in any case—wants any breaking up of it."

"Dr. Manion said he resented suggestion Conservative opposition to unification of Canada's railways was based on political expediency. The basic objection was to setting up a railway monopoly. The West remembered when it had only one railway and did not want to be served by a monopoly."

"We should be building up the country to catch up to the railways, not tearing up railway lines. It would be an injustice to thousands who have settled along the railways to tear up lines."

Opportunity for youth and work and wages for the needy are the keystones of Conservative social reform policy.

The Sports Parade

Billy Buxton, Victoria's popular southpaw, whose climb up the fistic ladder has been curtailed at different times because of an injured left hand, will swap punches with Danny LaVerne, Spanish-Portuguese boxer, next Tuesday evening at Seattle. The mix is one of the most important in the career of young Buxton, and the contest will probably decide what the future holds for the game little Victorian. A victory here will be a big boost for the local boy and definitely place him in line for bigger bouts and bigger purses. . . . George Butcher, who works in a local department store, is back at the grind after a vacation in Seattle. George, who is a real sports fan, rubbed elbows with Al Hostak, king of the middleweights; chatted with Freddie Steele, former ruler, and met Solly Kreiger, Hostak's opponent in the Seattle bout Tuesday at Seattle. Mr. Butcher heard the middleweight champion to be a man of a few words; noticed Steele has put on extra weight since quitting the ring, and came away convinced that Solly Kreiger is one tough hombre who loves to fight.—S.T.

Stuff 'n' Nonsense

Now that Seeger, the cartoonist who created the immortal Popeye, is dead, ardent followers of the comic strip are wondering whether or not the reading public will see the "demons" before the strip runs out. Several persons of our acquaintance have gone so far as to place bets on the outcome. Personally, we don't think the demons will ever be shown; for the main and simple reason it is hard to imagine a demon named "Bill." . . . Edmonton may not be able to field a winning Canadian Rugby team, but the home-town certainly stand behind their local squads. After dropping eight straight games to the Bombers, the Bronks and the Roughriders, the team returned home only to have the city council promptly vote a motion of appreciation to the players "in recognition of their performance in the face of great odds"; and that, friends, is loyalty. Other teams have been run out of town for less.—J.A.M.

Dangerous Practice

Nearly every day a motorcyclist on a one-lung "putt putt" plops along Broad Street and throttles down at the intersection of View Street. Then he jerks the machine onto the sidewalk and rides along Trounce Alley. Riding a bicycle on a sidewalk is bad enough, but a full-fledged motorcyclist is a bit too much. Some day an alert policeman is going to put down his number. . . . We wonder if all janitors are alike in the matter of heat. It has been our experience that many of them operate roaring furnaces on mild nights, and nearly roast tenants alive. But on cold nights they are extremely penurious with the coal or oil. . . . For some time we wondered why a number of motorists choose a dull grey color for their cars. It appears the color does not show dust or dirt, and one can drive for many weeks without having to wash or even wipe off a car. . . . After seeing a girl strolling along Broad Street in a hat with a pheasant feather at least two feet long, we thought it was time to revive the song, "Where Did You Get That Hat?"—G.B.

In the Laps of the Gods

During the past few weeks officials of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau have noted a marked increase in the number of communications received from England, Scotland and Wales intimating the desire to retire to Vancouver. An extract from one of the letters, however, seems to supply the key as to whether they will definitely come here or not. One gentleman wrote that he would retire to Vancouver Island "God willing and Hitler permitting"—W.I.P.

Music Proves Costly

Time was when music had charms to soothe the savage breast. But with the advent of swing music, its peculiar charm for jitter-bugs and gaudy dancers lies in its faculty for awakening or stirring up the more or less savage instincts. The effects of a jazz-session can be quite disastrous. Take the case of a team of farm horses quietly ploughing a high

Niagara Sailed With Passenger and Cargo Space All Occupied

Among Passengers Aboard the Green Canadian-Australasian Liner Were a Number of Jewish Refugees and a Theatrical Troupe

With all her passenger accommodation taken and her entire cargo space filled with Canadian products, the Canadian-Australasian S. S. Niagara, Captain William Martin, sailed from Rithet Piers at 7:45 o'clock last evening, bound for Sydney via way ports. The green liner came in from Vancouver shortly after 5 p.m., embarking a number of travelers, taking on mail and loading some general cargo, including paper and cooperage stock.

Prominent passengers going out on the liner were Mr. and Mrs. A. G. C. Deiber, the former, who has been British trade commissioner at Vancouver for some time, having been transferred to Auckland; Mr. and Mrs. E. L. A passenger from Victoria aboard the Niagara was James Small, who is making the round trip to Sydney, there meeting Mrs. Small, who has been visiting in Australia for some time. Other travelers boarding the liner here were Mrs. H. A. Holloway, going to Honolulu; Mrs. E. C. Watson, Sydney-bound; Mrs. B. L. Falkner, Miss B. A. Falkner and Miss D. Fraser, traveling to Sydney; Miss D. Graham, who has been visiting relatives at Duncan and is returning to Auckland; A. W. cians, traveling to Auckland, accompanied by Dr. N. W. Jones, both of Portland, Ore.

JEWISH REFUGEES
More than sixty Jewish refugees fleeing from their native Austria were aboard the liner Niagara when she sailed for Sydney last night. Mostly professional people with families, all are going to Australia to begin life in a strange land and possess the necessary qualifications for admittance to the Commonwealth. At the boat when she arrived, to greet the travelers, were a number of Victoria's Jewish citizens.

HEAD OF FAMILY
Sir Frederick Trollope, Bart., was a passenger aboard the Niagara, bound for his home in Sydney, following an extended visit to England. Sir Frederick is the head of the historic British family of Trollope, and which has been prominent since 1390 A.D. The first baronet was sheriff of Lincolnshire in 1641, and was followed by sheriffs, soldiers, merchants, students, lawyers and engineers.

SECURED TRAVEL
Among the travelers on the Niagara bound for Sydney last evening were Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Macfarlane and A. W. Skidmore. They are returning from an extended trip through Canada and the United States following a search for rodeo talent for the next Easter show of the Royal Agricultural Society of New South Wales, of which both Messrs. Macfarlane and Skidmore are directors.

The talent engaged for the show will pass through Victoria next Spring and comprises cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, chuck wagons, bulldozers and all the elements which go to make up a real Western American entertainment. Among the performers signed for the engagement are four women broncho-busters, crack Canadian riders and United States' rodeo experts.

TRAVELING SHOW
Nicola the Great and his troupe of magicians and specialty artists left Victoria last night aboard the liner Niagara on the first sea leg of a journey which will take the show through New Zealand, Australia, India and South Africa, the tour being booked up for two years. Manager Hugo stated that the show business was flourishing at the present time in the Southern Dominions and he expected to do very well in India and Africa. The company is from Chicago.

STEAMED AT FULL SPEED

Burning Ship Raced Towards Port While Crew Fought Flames

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (P)—The S. S. Deutschland's victory over fire—a new saga of the sea—was told today by officers and passengers as the German liner steamed toward New York.

After directing an eight-and-one-half-hour fight to extinguish a below-decks blaze, discovered last night while the vessel was 200 miles off Cape Race, Newfoundland, Captain Karl Steincke set his engine-room telegraph at "full speed."

He reported he would dock at his Hudson River pier at 7 p.m. Friday, about ten hours late.

None of the 591 passengers or 392 members of the crew was injured in the desperate fight.

EVERYBODY QUIET
"There was no panic," Captain Steincke told The Associated Press by radio telephone. "Everybody was quiet all the time. There was tranquility."

The American Traveler and the Norwegian whaler Europe arrived just as the last flame was smothered. Given the Deutschland's thanks, they went on their way.

Captain Steincke stated: "The fire was in Number 2 hold, where we were carrying a general cargo. I don't know yet how the fire started. 'You ask who discovered it? I tell you, it discovered itself. Understand. Smoke began coming up and we knew there was a fire.'"

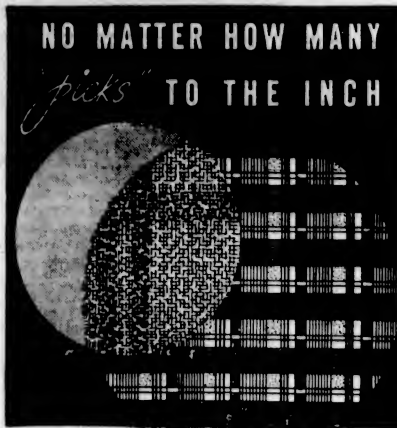

Chief Radio Operator Stoldt said: "We found out that smoke was coming out of the hold by a pipe that runs up to the bridge where all the holds are controlled. Of course, smoke was coming through the bulkhead, too."

DRILLED BULKHEADS
Holes were drilled in the bulkheads and through these holes the crew poured live steam directed from the boilers and water from firehose lines. Finally, they used carbonic acid fire extinguishers.

Thomas G. Smith, special disbursing officer of the United States Legation in Copenhagen and a passenger on the ship, radioed to The Associated Press: "The fire followed a combustion in the forward cargo compartment. The captain stopped the ship immediately, sent out his call and shifted the third-class passengers to the first and tourist quarters. 'There were no flames, but some smoke was seen above deck. 'The fire was controlled by hand extinguishers and water pumps within three hours.'"

QUEBEC, Oct. 26 (P)—Striking a heavy wharf guard while docking here today, the 3,000-ton British freighter Crestington Court suffered a damaged bow, but the extent of the damage, visible above the water line, was not estimated immediately.

In command of Captain W. Pace, the vessel arrived from Vancouver with 800,000 feet of British Columbia timber.

SUNDAY SCHOOL REACHES NORTH

Anglican Caravans Bring Word of God to Settlers in Isolated Areas

A story of how the teachings of God are brought to the isolated peoples of the vast Canadian North and the Interior regions of British Columbia, was told to a public meeting at the Memorial Hall Tuesday night, by Miss Rainald Hannay and Miss V. Archibald, of the Anglican Caravan Mission. Dean H. S. Elliott presided.

While a great piece of work was being done in those regions at the present time, more workers were needed. Most of the work in the Athabasca area was among Polish and Ukrainian settlers, Miss Hannay declared. Here the caravans made regular visits and services were well attended by an enthusiastic people willing to learn and have their children reap the benefits of the travelling "Sunday school." Confirmation classes were carried on and children were baptized. In one Russian communist district nearly fifty children attended regular Anglican services.

Last year thirty-three English girls came out to Canada as Sunday school postoffice and caravan workers, Miss Hannay said.
"A great adventure" were the words used by Miss Archibald in describing her introduction to the work and first trip to Canada last year. She worked in the East Kootenay area, where she found many of the isolated settlers on relief and miles from churches and mail deliveries. She also made a plea for more workers and funds to carry on the project.

INVESTIGATE REPORT
BRUSSELS, Oct. 26 (AP).—Upon request of the German Consulate, the police at Antwerp have started an investigation of a reported attack by Jews there on five German passengers from the liner Cordillera. The incident occurred at Pelican Street, centre of the diamond trade, in which many Polish and Belgian Jews are engaged.

Community Chest Notes

Victorians will be glad to hear that the Mission ship John Andie will arrive in Victoria about noon on Saturday, and will be open for inspection on Saturday afternoon and all day Sunday.

A well-wisher has sent to the Community Chest campaign committee the following: "The whirligig of life moves so swiftly no one is safe. The man who today sits securely on the throne of success, tomorrow lies penniless in the gutter. If he in his plenty will not do what he can to assist the unfortunate, why should anyone heed him when he cries for help?"

The local committee has expressed congratulations to Seattle

Seismograph Working Again—The seismograph, which records earthquakes tremors from great distances in Victoria, is again in working order at the Dominion Government Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill. It was disconnected last May and it was reported that it would be moved to the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanich. A few days ago the instrument was reconnected in its old position. However, it is understood the new arrangement is only temporary.

Ward Two Liberals—It was announced at a meeting of the Ward Two Liberal Association, in the headquarters Tuesday evening, that the annual meeting of the ward group would be held on November 22. Nominations for officers must be in the hands of the secretary seven days before the election.

Man Sought—Police seek a man who raised a bank money order from $1 to $24, and cashed it in a local drug store. He also cashed a similar order in a clothing shop, but unsuccessfully attempted to pass a third in a shoe store. In every case, the forgeries were cleverly executed.

Articles stolen included $23 in cash, a signet ring, gold watch chain, pendant chain, gold brooch, two gold rings, a pocket watch and a wrist watch.

Saves Home—In making his rounds, a delivery man prevented what might have been a serious fire at the home of T. Alexander, 223 Michigan Street. When the truck driver, called at the back door of the house, he noticed the kitchen stove was red hot and commencing to scorch the floor and walls. He immediately called the fire department.

Judgment Reserved—In the Provincial Police Court yesterday, Magistrate Henry C. Hall reserved judgment until next Wednesday, on a charge against Samuel M. Smith, of supplying liquor to a minor. The accused, who was represented by P. J. Sinnott, pleaded not guilty to the charge. Constables McKay and Holmes testified they had apprehended a minor at Sooke who, they claimed, had been drinking with Smith.

Wild Roses Bloom—On King George Terrace, facing the sea on the south side of Gonzales Hill, pedestrians and others passing through the district yesterday noticed wild roses in bloom, and farther down the hill pussy willows were seen coming out. The wild rose is sometimes seen about Christmas time, if the season is mild, but seldom so far ahead of the seasonable Springtime blooming as October.

WILL CONDUCT GRAND OPERA

Basil Horsfall, Well-Known Musician Here, Receives Appointment in England

BASIL HORSFALL

Victoria, next Monday, will lose one of the most active figures in musical life with the departure of Basil Horsfall, who has been offered the position of guest conductor and musical director for the International Grand Opera Company.

This company is composed of members of the famous Beecham Opera Company, and some members of the Carl Rosa Company, whose repertoire of twenty-four operas includes the Wagner operas, "Tristan and Isolde," "Walkyrie," and "Tannhauser." Mr. Horsfall will conduct the Wagner and Verdi operas.

For the past four or five seasons Mr. Horsfall has conducted the productions of the Victoria Grand Opera Association. He first visited here in the Spring of 1914 with the Hammerstein Opera Company productions at the Royal Victoria Theatre, and later returned to take up residence here. Both he and Mrs. Horsfall had splendid experience to help the young society to produce Wagnerian and other operas, and some remarkably good things have been given under their direction. Mrs. Horsfall is remaining here, and the Victoria Grand Opera Association will carry on as usual with their regular monthly shows in their clubrooms, and a more important production in the Spring.

PERSONAL ITEMS and SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

The candid camera found some interesting subjects while the State Ball was in progress at Government House on Tuesday night, the affair being a brilliant forerunner of the many social affairs which will be held in connection with the Fall Session of the Provincial Legislature. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber, shown in the centre of above group of snapshots, entertained several hundred guests from all parts of the Mainland as well as the Island, the ball following the formal State dinner, which was attended by members of the Provincial Cabinet and representatives of the Judiciary, and the naval and military forces. Shown above are, left to right: (1) Lieut.-Commander C. J. C. Stewart, Mr. Hew Paterson, one of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor's aides-de-camp, and Brigadier J. C. Stewart. (2) Major and Mrs. R. D. Travis. (3) Major and Mrs. C. T. Beard, R.C.N., with Captain C. R. Bull, M.P.P. for South Okanagan. (4) Major and Mrs. E. B. Underwood and Major and Mrs. J. N. Edgar.

Recommends Measures Be Compulsory

BRANDON, Oct. 26 (C.P.) — A complete bill of health for both parties to a marriage before issuance of licences was recommended in a resolution approved today by United Farmers of Manitoba in convention here.

Submitted by United Farm Women of Manitoba, the resolution was supported by Dr. I. B. Griffiths, Manitoba Minister of Health and Public Welfare.

Dr. Griffiths asked the convention to submit the resolution to the Provincial Government for consideration.

The child welfare branch was supporting families of men who had died or become incapacitated as a result of social diseases, the minister said. Cost of treatment was tremendous.

United Farm Women of Manitoba re-elected Mrs. E. L. Johnson.

Arborg, president, and chose Mrs. W. J. Davis, Elm Creek, to succeed Mrs. P. Owen, Miami, as vice-president. Mrs. Johnson submitted the examination-before-marriage resolution, seconded by Mrs. W. Adams, of Neepawa.

The Senior W.A. of the Royal Jubilee Hospital met yesterday at the Nurses' Home, the president, Mrs. R. J. Jamieson in the chair and twenty-seven members present. Mrs. P. E. Taylor, membership convenor, reported $22 in dues received. Dr. T. W. Walker, medical superintendent of the hospital, gave a brief account of his recent visit to hospitals in Eastern Canada and the United States, describing the up-to-date equipment which he had seen. After hearing of the rapid sterilization machines in use in some of the hospitals, the members of the W.A. decided to purchase one for the Jubilee Hospital.

Mrs. J. W. Benning, general convenor of the hospital ball, reported that final arrangements had been completed, and asked that all bridge scores be in by 11:30 p.m. The next meeting-planned for November 23 in order not to conflict with the doll bazaar to be held by the Junior W.A. Two vacancies on the executive were filled by Mrs. C. T. Beard and Miss Caroline Hall.

Sherwood Auxiliary W.M.S.

Mrs. George Guy, president of Victoria Presbyterial, was the guest speaker at the thankoffering meeting of Sherwood Auxiliary held in Belmont United Church recently. At the close of the address, the Misses Gwen and Maureen Whitehouse sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Whitehouse. Reports were presented by Mrs. C. E. Bonley, Mrs. C. Whorson, Mrs. A. Vey and Mrs. Bryce Wallace. A satisfactory sum was realized in the thankoffering. Mrs. F. Sims and Twelve tables were in play, with Rev. Father J. R. Buckley and additional guests coming in at the tea hour. The dining-room was prettily arranged with chrysanthemums in russet shades, while the tea table, attractively appointed, was centred with shaggy pink chrysanthemums in a black bowl. Gorge and Erskine W.M.S.

Owing to the regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Gorge and Erskine Presbyterian Church in Canada being postponed, the meeting was held on Tuesday, with Mrs. W. Sanders in the chair. Mrs. Sanders read an inspiring paper on "Praise," which was the theme of the meeting. Mrs. Dempsey, supply secretary, read the allocation for next year, and it was discussed more fully at the next meeting. A letter from Mrs. Stewart, Glad Tidings secretary, was read, and her resignation was received with regret. The Gorge Mission Band was discussed, some of its members being ready to graduate to an older girls' group.

Hitch-Hikers Return After Trip to East

VANCOUVER, Oct. 26 (C.P.) — Mrs. Florrie Hayes and her two daughters, Kathleen, nineteen, and Dorothy, eighteen, returned to their Vancouver home today after a 12,000-mile hitch-hiking trip which took them across Canada to Halifax and back.

Among gifts which the hitch-hikers brought back with them was an ash tray which they will present to Mayor G. C. Miller on behalf of the Mayor of Lunenburg, N.S.

The trio left here last May. On their return they visited relatives in Ontario, then traveled through part of the United States and returned to Canada at Emerson, south of Winnipeg.

They were joined at Edmonton by Mrs. Hayes' son, James, who completed the last leg of the journey with them.

Goodman and Miss Gladys Veale entertained friends and Miss Hughes' former associates on the staff of the unemployed relief office at a miscellaneous shower, given at the home of Mrs. Goodman on Inez Drive. Lovely pink roses were arranged in the reception room, where a typewriter, placed upon a table, was decorated with streamers in shades of mauve and yellow. The table, attractively arranged, was centred with a glass bowl of bright nasturtiums, while a bride's cake decorated in pink and white, and inscribed with "Best Wishes," held the place of honor and was cut by the bride-elect. the guest of honor, this being the first occasion upon which she had met the association since she arrived from England. She was presented with a corsage spray of pink carnations by little Jean Ross, daughter of the hostess. The dining-room, in which tea was served, was decorated in the Halloween motif, a cleverly-made Jack-o'-lantern, balloons and flowers in shades of yellow and orange being arranged effectively. Mrs. F. G. Hart and Mrs. Arthur Laundry poured tea, the table being centred with a bowl of bronze chrysanthemums and lighted by orange tapers. Assisting Mrs. Ross in receiving were Miss Barton, headmistress of the school; Mrs. E. H. W. Elkington and Miss Frances Price.

Mrs. Wallace Sommerville and Mrs. Harry Mackey were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower held recently at the home of Mrs. Mackey, 2377 Estevan Avenue, in honor of Miss Gladys Dayton. Bronze chrysanthemums and mauve Michaelmas daisies were arranged in the reception room. Games were enjoyed and prizes were won by Mrs. L. Stone and Miss June Burrows. A buffet supper was served. The guests were Mesdames W. Primore, Glyn

The weekly supper dance at the Empress Hotel, on Saturday, will be augmented by black cats, yellow pumpkins, all manner of traditional decorations in honor of Halloween. With parties already booked for the occasion and demands for the Lambeth Walk on the roster of entertainment, it appears as if the occasion will be a particularly gay one. Mr. W. F. Tickle, popular maestro, is making up a dance programme in all ways in time with the occasion.

Christening Ceremony
A christening took place at St.

Miss Rita Mottershead Married to Mr. R. Berry

St. Barnabas' Church was beautifully decorated for the marriage of Margaret Mary (Rita), elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mottershead, 1446 Gladstone Avenue, and Mr. Richard Berry, only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Berry, 3071 Washington Avenue, which was solemnized at 8 o'clock last night in the presence of a large congregation. Rev. N. E. Smith officiated at the ceremony, and Dr. J. E. Watson presided at the organ.

Mr. Mottershead gave his daughter away, and she looked very attractive as she walked up the aisle with the attendants to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin." Her gown of ivory satin was fashioned with a short train and was fastened down the front with self-covered buttons, and a daisied with a narrow, loosely knotted sash, and the long pointed sleeves and Peter Pan collar were edged with tulle. The embroidered veil was gathered into a cluster of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of Buttery and Sweetheart roses.

THE BRIDESMAIDS
Sisters of the bride and bridesmaids were the charming bridesmaids. Miss Kaye Mottershead was in pale pink silk net and lace over satin, and Miss Violet Berry wore a frock of robin's egg blue net and lace over tulle. They both wore bouquets with short puff sleeves and Juliet caps of net to match their gowns, trimmed with flowers; long lace mittens, and carried Colonial posies of forget-me-nots, panies and pink roses.

Mr. Max Winkler was best man, and the usher was Mr. Charles Powell and Mr. Norman Goyette. As the register was being signed, the organist played "O Promise Me."

AT THE RECEPTION
Chrysanthemums in varied hues were arranged at the home of the bride's parents for the reception, which was held after the service, during which the bride and groom stood beneath a floral archway before a window, from which was suspended a large white bell. Mrs. Mottershead welcomed the guests in a dress of woven silk with long puffed sleeves and cowl neck, trimmed with raised gold embroidery, and a black velvet turban and veil. Receiving with her was the bridegroom's mother, in a modish gown of black lace, who also wore a black velvet turban and veil.

Colored Pictures Of Foreign Countries Shown by Mr. Denny

An interesting evening was spent at the Connaught Seamen's Institute on Tuesday through the kindness of Mr. A. S. Denny, who showed beautifully colored lantern slides of many countries. India, with its customs so full of mystery and magnificently carved marble buildings; Egypt, with its historical pyramids; China, with its quaint boats and picturesque scenes and customs; Germany, with its clean streets and quaint buildings and lovely opera gardens, so full of glorious flowers; and Sweden, with its customs of peaceful living, the bonny maids in their bright costumes, were all shown by Mr. Denny, who told fascinating stories of the countries.

Palestine, so full of history and art, was shown; and Scotland was not forgotten with its glorious beauty, castles, hills, mountains and heather. The charm of England's country was seen in the thatched cottages with hedges and flowers and winding roads. Towards the end, slides were shown of British Columbia, and the lovely garden of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butcher, with its great variety of color and beauty.

FIRM MOVES TO NEW LOCATION

Electrical Store of Nixon's, Ltd., Open Premises at 1205 Douglas Street

A well-known Victoria electrical store, Nixon's Ltd., has now moved from 833 Yates Street to new and central premises at 1205 Douglas Street, in the Sayward Building.

Under the management of T. M. Nixon, the firm has had a record of steady growth and expansion since its inauguration in 1931. At that time it was known as Clarke & Nixon, Mr. Nixon being associated with Herbert Clarke in the electrical contracting field. In 1937, the modern Yates Street store was opened under the present name, and now the steadily increasing volume of business has necessitated the acquisition of premises in a more central location.

IS REDECORATED
The new store is completely redecorated, with indirect lighting fixtures and adequate display of the various lines carried. These include Northern Electric radios, Leonard Electric refrigerators, Gurney electric ranges, and a complete line of Universal and Sampson domestic electric appliances. In addition, the ABC washer and ironer is featured. New and modern lighting fixtures are shown, and the firm specializes in all types of electrical installation.

In September a new department was opened, carrying all types of sheet music and this has met with tremendous success. It is under the direction of Frank Tupman, well-known musical conductor, who was formerly with Heintzman Piano Company and with the P. Evans Music Company. Mr. Tupman was also a music instructor in the city schools. He is assisted by Miss Phyllis Mumford, who is well known locally in musical circles.

RADIO SERVICE
No small part of the firm's activities lies in radio service and H. E. Davies is in charge of this department. Mr. Davies has had more than ten years' experience in this work, being a graduate of the University of Manitoba and of the Chicago Radio Engineering Institute. He was formerly radio engineer for Wholesale Supplies, Winnipeg.

In charge of sales is H. Savage, formerly with the B.C. Electric in Vancouver. Mr. Savage has had considerable experience in heating and air conditioning, having spent some time with Summerfield's, Ltd.

All-Star Cast

Frank Capra's newest Columbia masterpiece, a screen version of "You Can't Take It With You," hailed as even better than the Pulitzer prize-winning stage play of the same name by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, will open today at the Capitol Theatre.

Heading the stellar cast are Jean Arthur, James Stewart, Lionel Barrymore, Edward Arnold, Mischa Auer, Spring Byington and Ann Miller. Others, in major roles, include Donald Meek, Dub Taylor, Samuel S. Hinds, Mary Forbes, Ann Doran, Clarence Wilson, Charles Lane, Eddie Anderson and Lillian Yarbo. Frank Capra produced and directed from the screen play by his veteran collaborator, Robert Riskin.

HOCKEY PICTURE IS ENTERTAINING

Charles Quigley and Rita Hayworth Star in Romance, "The Game That Kills"

Championship hockey, underworld intrigue, and tender romance team up to score a new entertainment high in "The Game That Kills," featuring Charles Quigley and lovely Rita Hayworth, which opens today at the Plaza Theatre.

Against a background of lightning-paced hockey, the story is crisscrossed with dramatic suspense. It all starts with the "accidental" killing of Tom Ferguson. His brother Alec (Quigley) suspecting that there has been foul play, goes to New York to investigate. Posing as another player, he wins a place on his brother's team. Then things begin to happen.

LAUGHS ARE MANY IN OAK BAY FILM

"Dishonor Bright" Offers Amusing Scenes in Divorce Court With Tom Walls

Plenty of laughter right from the word "Go!" is the order of the day with "Dishonor Bright," which will open at the Oak Bay Theatre today. The film opens in the divorce court with Tom Walls, as the co-respondent, engaging in many verbal battles with the judge. As may be well imagined, the popular comedian is fully equal to all demands that are made of him in the way of bright repartee, and though he is described by the aggrieved husband as a "bar-nacle of society," Tom Walls manages to come up smiling in the end.

DOMINATION The spine-tingling story of a man who breaks out of mighty Alcatraz, the prison which the government declares "breakproof," hi-jacks a steamer and massacres the crew, Paramount's new thriller, "King of Alcatraz," will show for the last times today at the Dominion Theatre.

ATLAS "Racket Busters," as its title indicates, and which will close today at the Atlas Theatre, is a story of how the produce racket was smashed by an honest truckman, George Brent, and a capable special prosecutor, Walter Abel, after it had long flourished under the leadership of Humphrey Bogart, big-time racketeer.

ISSUES WARNING TO AGGRESSORS

arm "to meet with success any application of force against us."

The President declared: "It is becoming increasingly clear that peace by fear has no higher or more enduring quality than peace by the sword."

"There can be no peace if the reign of law is to be replaced by a recurrent sanctification of sheer force."

"There can be no peace if national policy adopts as a deliberate instrument the threat of war."

"There can be no peace if national policy adopts as a deliberate instrument the dispersion all over the world of millions of helpless and persecuted wanderers with no place to lay their heads."

"There can be no peace if humble men and women are not free to think their own thoughts, to express their own feelings, to worship God."

Deplored armaments competition which "heightens the suspicions and fears and threatens the economic prosperity" of every nation, he called for the adoption of a "good neighbor" policy under which needed political changes "shall be made peacefully."

The United States wants disarmament, he said, but will not disarm "while neighbor nations arm to the teeth."

ASKS FOR CO-OPERATION
LONDON, Oct. 26 (P).—Vicomte

Halifax, British Foreign Secretary, in a speech broadcast to the United States tonight, asked for American co-operation with Great Britain in establishing world peace.

He spoke of the crisis last month over Czechoslovakia and President Roosevelt's contribution in appeals for peace to Chancellor Hitler and President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia, a contribution which he said was as "valuable as it was welcome."

His speech was a part of The New York Herald-Tribune's Forum. Referring to the United States neutrality legislation, he said, "We do not question the motives which inspired your neutrality legislation, but we noted your followed with acute interest the events in Europe. There is little real difference in the attitude of the average man and woman in Britain and America regarding the turbulent currents sweeping Europe."

Candidates Confirmed By Bishop

Most Rev. J. H. Cody, Bishop of Victoria, visited Cumberland district last week-end, and administered the sacrament of confirmation in two places. At 4 p.m. at the Church of St. John the Evangelist at Cumberland, with nine candidates, and at 7:30 p.m. at Courtenay, Church of the Canadian Martyrs, forty-one candidates. That was a record class for that part of the diocese.

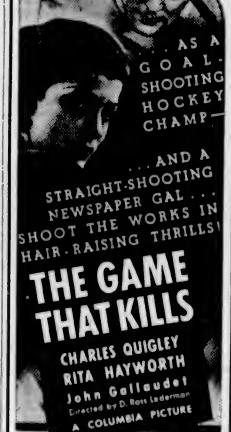

The bishop spoke on the institution and effects of the sacrament at each place, its effects on the Apostles at Pentecost, and what the effects would be for man if no obstacle were placed in the way. He congratulated the people of Courtenay on the splendid growth of the church in the district. He was accompanied by Rev. G. Penfold of the cathedral. In both places the ceremony closed with Pontifical Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, the bishop himself being celebrant, assisted by Father G. T. Albury as deacon and Father Penfold as sub-deacon.

PLAN HOSPITAL FOR ZEBALLOS

Red Cross Erecting Fourteen-Bed Institution at New Mining Camp

The British Columbia Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society, through its outpost hospital committee, are pleased to announce that the plans for the new Red Cross hospital at Zeballos will soon be finished.

These plans call for a completely equipped fourteen-bed hospital. The building itself will be of a conservative, stable design. The foundation will be in the form of a full concrete basement, with service facilities. Plans are being completed by the architect, R. A. D. Berwick, associated with Messrs. Sharp & Thompson, who acts as architectural adviser to the outpost hospital committee. The cost will be about $15,000.

The consummation of this project has been the result of many months of hard work in which the enthusiasm of the local community at Zeballos has resulted in the raising of a large sum of money, to which the Provincial Government adds a grant. The Red Cross will fully equip, staff, and run the hospital. With the completion of this building, the Red Cross will have four outpost hospitals operating in British Columbia, the others being those at Kyuquot, also on the west coast of Vancouver Island; McBride, in the Prince George neighborhood, both opened this year, and the Cecil Lake Hospital in the Peace River country.

MAN CHARGED IN BIG FUR ROBBERY

Police Recover Goods Valued at More Than $1,000 Stolen At Week-End

With the arrest of Harry Dewese yesterday afternoon, police believe they have solved circumstances surrounding the theft of furs valued at more than $1,000 from the store of Leonard Wilkes late Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Dewese was charged with retaining property over the value of $25, knowing the same to have been stolen, and will appear before Magistrate Henry O. Hall in the city police court this morning.

The furs were recovered intact and stored for safe keeping in a vault at the police station. Detectives William Stark and Pearson Woodburn arrested Dewese. They were instructed by Chief J. A. McLellan and Detective Inspector J. H. Rogers, who personally worked on the case.

'The Canadian Market' Supplement on Sale

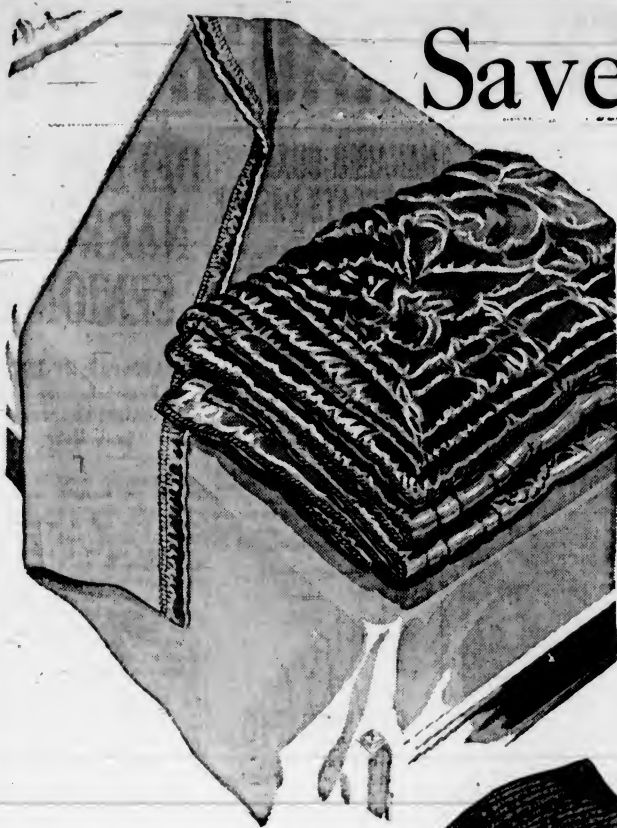

A year ago the research department of the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association published a volume of statistics under the title of "The Canadian Market," in which the treatment of fundamentals was so simplified and symbolized by graph and "photograph" that the book was acclaimed as one of unusual interest and distinction. It went all over the world to our own Canadian trade commissioners, to the libraries of Congress, of the House of Commons and of the House of Lords in London, and to advertisers and trade corporations on several continents. The "top line" financial houses found it exceptionally adapted for conveying to United States and foreign investors the possibilities of Canada in the world of money.

This research work has been continued for twelve months and the first—the 1938—supplement is now off the press and selling so rapidly in advance that its complete absorption is assured.

Those who own the parent work will require no recommendation for its first child. The supplement for 1938 carries on the original story with necessary additions and projections into the future. Its speciality is graph summaries of retail sales by provinces in the major groups of business: food, general merchandise, automotive, clothing, building material, furniture, etc. The charts should enable any merchant to apply practically a slide rule to his affairs and allow him to check his progress against that of his industry, as well as to plan his future campaign against definite potential goals.

Advance sales of the supplement have been heavy and the limited edition will probably be exhausted soon after it appears. It is being distributed at a price of one dollar postpaid by the central office of the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, 903 Excelsior Life Building, Toronto.

Any financial house which does not have the original volume in its library may obtain it from the same source at the original price of three dollars postpaid. The pace of recovery is accelerating and the text of these books outlines how every phase in the national economy has contributed and will continue to be a factor in the forward movement.

CHAPTER XLV

Bonnie lowered her head. Then looking up, she said gently, "No is my final answer. I like my new life, my work, my friends."

"And your clothes?" He shook his head. "You've changed, Bonnie."

"Who made me change?" There was no fire, no anger in the question. She asked it wearily and her voice quavered.

The phone rang then. She got up, went to it, and said, "I'll be down directly—Dick." She turned to Michael. "I must go. My friends are waiting for me."

He stood up and his eyes were in chaos from his thoughts when he watched her go. Then he looked across the room to Lyle.

hurt her. She is different. She's grown up and she's beautiful."

But she was thinking, "I didn't think she could send him away. How could she when she loves him so, when she knows he needs her and that he's sorry?"

His face relaxed. "I guess that is what you call turning the tables. I had it coming to me. You never appreciate things when you're too close to them. You've got to get away from them and think about them and—lose them. Maybe I didn't put up a stiff enough fight. Lyle, I didn't want her to feel sorry for me. Funny, now I don't want her to take me back because of a feeling of duty."

She tried to smile. "You might try again, Michael."

He nodded. "How is Jeff?"

"He's been ill and he's in Florida now."

"Do you mind if I look at Mike before I go?"

"You don't have to ask me that."

When he came out of the bedroom, he said, meeting her eyes, "I had everything, didn't I? A wife, a home, and a son. And I tossed it overboard. And this is called a man's world. We should be an education to you, Lyle—in what not to do to make a happy marriage."

When he left, she went back to work on the painting for Mrs. Nash's dress shop. Puzzled, even a little bewildered, she could not understand.

DECISION HELD IN ISLAND LAND CASE

Judge H. H. Shandley reserved his decision in the County Court yesterday in the case of O. J. Garner vs. B. R. Lemon, concerning land on Salt Spring Island. H. A. Beckwith appeared for the plaintiff, and A. J. Fallon for the defendant.

Mr. Lemon purchased property at Green Point, Burgoyne Bay, Salt Spring Island, from Richard Maxwell, who sold the court he pre-empted the land but later purchased it.

When finally his second letter came at the end of the week, her hands shook with relief and joy when she opened it. And though it was a brief little note, it sustained her few days and put color in her face and happiness in her voice until she began to be anxious for his next letter.

it from the Government when his pre-emption was questioned. Mr. Garner disputed ownership of the Green Point area, upon which the purchaser, Mr. Lemon, built a dwelling and carried out other improvements.

Late Rally Puts Life into Market On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—A rush to buy low-priced shares—much of the action took place in the minutes before the final gong—put life into a drooping stock market today. For a time the proceedings looked like a sort of glorified version of the familiar "one-cent sale," as so-called penny stocks, especially at the opening and at the close were all over the ticker tape.

Of the day's total turnover of 1,702,180 shares, approximately 25 per cent was accounted for by seven stocks selling for less than $10 a share. Packard alone ran to 179,200 shares and Commonwealth and Southern to 93,700.

This push for the low-priced issues left most of them fractions ahead, and tended to obscure a downtrend in a majority of the usual leaders. These were under pressure most of the day for losses of fractions to around 3 points, but down only moderately at the finish. Steels led the recession. Coppers, mail orders and many industrials were under water all day.

Airports were exceptions to the general decline in higher-priced equities with persistent buying in evidence throughout.

The day brought its first of earnings reports, many of them very pleasant readings, including Westinghouse and Standard Brands. But most Wall Street commentators echoed the point of view of the Westinghouse chairman, A. W. Robertson, that these figures mainly reflected the Spring and Summer slump, and that prospects looked better ahead.

Higher prices for U.S. Government bonds and a selected group of domestic issues contrasted with a dull and generally irregular bond market today. Government bonds came to life sharply in the final hour, and closing quotations were the best of the day, with most active bonds 1-32 to 6-32 of a point ahead.

Directors of the Gulf, Mobile & Northern, after close of trading, today announced merger with the Mobile & Ohio.

Twenty rails 21.58, off 0.45.
Fifteen utilities 24.47, off 0.16.
Forty bonds 90.12, up 0.11.

Jane Dixon Says:

A MAN WHO ADMITS HE HAS NO CONTROL OVER HIMSELF IS NO LONGER A MAN—HE NEEDS TO CONSULT A PHYSICIAN.

Dear Miss Dixon: I am a married man, having been one for several years.

I have the dearest, finest wife on earth. I love her with a deep, abiding love and treat her accordingly when I am myself. The trouble is, I drink at times. No use mincing matters, when I drink I get drunk. When under the influence of strong drink I abuse the wife I love, curse her, boast about the women I love better than I do her. Of course this is the liquor speaking, not me. She is the only woman I love, always will be.

When I get over my spree, I beg her forgiveness. She does forgive me and treats me as though it never had happened. She is a real lady and has a fine disposition. We have several children to whom she is a devoted mother. She never throws money away. Her whole life is wrapped up in her children, her home and her husband.

I am worried because drinking is my weakness, and I do not want to mistreat the wife I love in any way whatsoever. She tells me that lately she is growing weary, and that one day I will come home and find she has gone out of my life; that she does not feel she can go on living this way.

Please send me help and encouragement. I need it badly—Worried Husband.

Comment: The quickest and surest help I could give you, Worried Husband, would be to supply you with a new backbone and with a powerful stimulant to be injected into your will. However, science has not yet made either of these available and this writer is no miracle-worker, so it is up to you, my dear sir, to do a whole lot of helping yourself.

Make up your mind which you love better, your appetite or your wife. The time must come when you cannot serve two loves, so make a choice. I suggest that you go to a reputable physician and consult him on ways and means to get yourself started on the upward way. A man who admits he has no control over himself needs the doctor.

He is no longer a man. He isn't even mouse.

MISSING WITH JEWELS

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (AP)—Police of eight states today searched for George Fleming, a chauffeur whose wealthy employer reported he was missing with $200,000 in jewels. The employer, Edward H. Townsend, Jr., an investment broker, said Fleming, thirty-eight, disappeared after leaving in a family car yesterday to take the jewels to a hotel for Mrs. Townsend.

Time, 3 a.m.: "What's the matter, sir? Lost your key?"
"No, officer; lost my nerve."

SAFECRACKERS ACTIVE

LLOYDMINSTER, Sask., Oct. 26 (P).—Safecracking operations, extensive in Central Alberta towns recently, spread to Marshall, Sask., sixteen miles east of Lloydminster. Tuesday night and thieves escaped with $150 after "cracking" the safe in Wilton's co-operative store.

The golf club grouser was complaining bitterly at the "19th" about the worm casts on the greens. The captain came in and was immediately buttonholed.

"Isn't this the time of year to treat worms," the grouser asked.

"Yes," replied the captain, "what will you have?"
